PROJECTS

Stock Genius - Inventory management system

I developed an inventory management system using the MERN stack with Redux for state management. The system allows users to add, edit, and search products, track stock, costs, and sales, with a history section for past sales and profits. It features a dark mode and admin panel for user management.

Rapid Start

Marketplace Platform for Rapid Business Launch A user-friendly platform designed to help entrepreneurs launch their businesses in minutes, not months. With integrated e-commerce tools, customizable storefronts, and built-in marketing solutions, it simplifies the process of setting up and scaling an online business.

Paramount Reach

A comprehensive social media automation platform designed to integrate multiple social media accounts (e.g., Facebook, Instagram, TikTok) for streamlined content generation and posting. The project includes AI-powered content creation, automated posting systems, inventory updates, and advanced premium features such as video slideshows, voice-overs, and multi-platform support, all with easy-to-use customization and scheduling options.
